Board Or Not - - Youth Service Group Calls For Recognition

Arlington's Youth Services Organization discovered Monday night that it had not been recognized as a Town Department through any official enactment by the Town's governing body, as directors attended a hearing before the Selectmen's Board.

(References to the organization as a 'board' in story appearing in second section are temporarily fallacious.—Ed.)

The purpose of the directors in confronting Selectmen was to protest having to submit a budget for the group in the annual Warrant for approval at the Town meeting.

Anthony DiNatale, a member of the Youth Services Board of Directors, argued that "other Town Departments are not required to send their budget to the Town Meeting, and an exception should not be made in this case."

Ordering 'Meeting approval' of the budget, the group stated, would be the 'kiss of death' for the organization, since this would cast doubt on Townspeople as to whether the organization has the Board of Selectmen endorsement.

Selectman Horace Homer informed the group that it had not been established as a Town Dept't at its Town Meeting initiation last year, and is required, as a committee, to report to the Town. Several instances of being called a Board, which assumes the existence of a Department, were cited by the group—letters addressed to the group's directors; supposed approval by the Town Manager.

Feeling was expressed by Selectman Bullock that this was an experimental committee, which would report back to this year's Town Meeting on its findings, and on the organization's success.

Mrs. Spengler, one of the directors, answered with, "We have been under the impression that this was an official department. We asked official status last year. Now, we understand the organization is merely a non-departmental committee. This could have been accomplished without going before a Town Meeting."

Without the status of a Department, the directors feel that financial aid is more difficult to attain. However, they intend to seek appropriations in a Warrant article.

A sum of $11,000 is needed to undertake a number of projects.

YOUNGER MEMBERS of the Arlington Boys' Club participate in question and answer series on ice safety, in the swimming pool section of the clubhouse. Lt. Jones, head of the rescue division of Cranston, R. I., fire department, leads the discussion.

Man Found Dead

A man was found dead in the garage of his home at 84 School st. last week by police, after they were alerted by a neighbor of the man.

Investigating the garage at the request of Mrs. Conroy of 83 School st., Officer Powers discovered the body of Daniel O. MacEachern, 69, and called for a doctor.

Dr. Feeley arrived shortly and pronounced him dead.

Ministers Plan Exchange Sunday

The twelfth annual pulpit exchange of the Protestant churches in Arlington will be held Sunday, Jan. 13.

Ten Protestant churches will be participating.

Rev. James Daniels of the Arlington Heights Methodist church will be preaching at the Pleasant Street Congregational church; Rev. Guy Meyer of the Universalist church, at Heights Methodist church; Rev. Wilbur Canada of Park Avenue Congregational church, at the Universalist church.

Rev. Robert Slaughter of First Baptist church will be at First Unitarian church.

Mgr. in Hospital

Town Manager Edward C. Monahan is confined to Symmes hospital after suffering a relapse Saturday from the illness which has kept him away from his duties since early December.

He was named Captain, July 19, 1943 and Deputy Chief, April 26, 1948.

Chief Egan was married to the late Mary E. O'Connell who died in 1944. There are four children—Elizabeth H. Ford, Framingham; Claire Allison, Braintree; Thomas H. Andover, Conn. and David W. of Arlington.

He was graduated from Arlington high school; the Boston Fire Drill school; the Boston Fire Dept. Officers' school and attend the New York Fire Dept. Officers' college.

The new Chief became a permanent member of the local Department, July 16, 1929; Dec. 1, 1956, he was promoted to the rank of Captain; and became a Deputy Chief, Aug. 30, 1959.

He is married to the former Ann Thompson of Somerville and the couple has two children—John E. Jr., Gloucester and Janice Monteith of Belmont.

He was graduated from Arlington high school; Coburn Classical Institute, Waterville, Maine; Boston Fire Drill school and the Boston Fire Dept. Officers' school.

On his appointment in 1955, Egan succeeded Chief Richard Tierney.

New Chief To Assume Duties

Responsibility for the local Fire Department will change hands on Jan. 13, as John E. Canniff of 165 Mystic st. takes on the duties of Chief from retiring Chief Thomas Egan.

Canniff has served as Deputy Chief since 1960, and Egan will have completed seven and a half years as Chief.

Appointment of the new Chief was made by Town Manager Edward C. Monahan. Both the new and the retiring chiefs are longtime members of the Arlington Department, Egan serving

Heroic Rescue Saves Local Girls In Mystic Ice Break

A quickly-planned and heroic rescue by five Arlington boys averted tragedy Jan. 2, when two local girls fell through the ice on the lower part of the Mystic lake about 4:45 p.m.

Victims of the tricky ice were Jane Robertson, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robertson of 12 Intervale rd., and Christina Sharpe, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Sharpe of 5 Cheviot rd.

The girls reported the ice seemed strong enough, but gave way when they were about 80 feet offshore. They were skating on the area off Mystic st. near the Parkway.

Jane was the first to go through the ice, and was quickly joined in the freezing water by Christina, who had been a few feet closer to shore but skated back to her friend.

A group of boys playing hockey about 100 yards away were alerted by the screams for help coming from the girls, and rushed over to pull them from the water.

Three of the boys threw out a length of rope, which was caught by Christina, and they hauled her onto the ice. At the same time, the other two employed a hockey stick, with which Jane was able to pull herself out.

Boys participating in the rescue were Gregory Miller of 4 Intervale rd., Steve Phaneuf of 67 Old Mystic st., Eric Clark of 343 Mystic st.

CLOSE CALL was had last week by Chris Sharpe (l.), and Jane Robertson (r.), when ice of lower Mystic Lake gave way while they were skating. The boys pictured in rear effected their rescue: Steve Phaneuf, Fred Walsh, Gregory Miller, Eric Clark and John Walsh.

and Fred and John Walsh of 9 Cheviot rd. All five of the boys are 13-year-olds.

Police were informed of the incident by a Beverly rd. resident, and reached the scene after the rescue had been effected. The girls and three of the boys had already left for home.

The fire department was also alerted, and rushed to the lake with the rescue truck and boat.

A probable reason for the break in apparently thick ice is the shifting of warmer water from the upper lake region, caused by the strong winds of a couple of days before.

All seven of the boys and girls, who attend Jr. High East, were able to keep from panicking during the incident, which accounts in large part for having avoided fatality.

Why Bother With Foreign Aid?

What is foreign aid anyway? A lot of money being poured into a tiny country that really doesn't know how to manage money? Why worry about other countries; if they have been living like stone-age people, let them. What possible difference could money make to them?

Foreign Aid seems to be one of the United States' biggest problems — who to give it to and how much. We have slums of our own here and means plenty of needy people. The United States has more charities than any other country in the world, even though we don't have stone-agers and famines.

Viet Nam is a tiny country wherein exists these problems and the United States is giving her foreign aid in the form of Special Troops. Why?

Communism is the plague that has hit many of the countries in Southeast Asia. The famines of Red China have driven it's people in all directions. Hong Kong is bulging with refugees and more unfortunate people coming in every day. The British Province has been up against the overflow of population for a long time now and the only solution is to send them back to Red China. They are fighting to keep Hong Kong free, while the Communists need more room and still more food for it's people.

Why should we help Viet Nam, why should we get involved in a war? Well, how can one measure freedom?

An ax is gold to a man who never had one before; food is more than gold when one is starving. People the world over must have these elements to survive. Our foreign aid policy is much disputed. Congress has been hashing this out for years. Some countries get aid from Russia as well as the United States and use it for their personal benefit. This is bad we all agree, but in a country like Viet Nam where to 450,000 people, there is only one doctor, it is vital. To some societies, war is necessary and continuous, but in this case, the victory of Communism would mean the loss of another free society to the mass of the Communists.

Whose fault is it that these people are still in a primitive state? Understanding is a part of our Foreign Aid that helps these governments and their people. In some countries foreign aid is being wasted, but the victory in Viet Nam is close. We can teach them to manage money, the rudiments of medicine, sanitation, defense and many more things that will improve their way of living and strengthen their freedom. The result cannot be seen overnight. Patience is the most important element in our foreign aid to Viet Nam.

He Has A Pet Peeve

I am getting a little fed up with the almost constant reminder, usually by radio and television, that something sells for the price of two packs of cigarettes, or that my donation to something need be no more than the price of a carton of cigarettes.

This implication is that if I can afford to smoke cigarettes, I can afford anything. Worse, yet, have some nut tell you that had you saved the money you spent on tobacco you could be driving a limousine.

It is not that I mind these broadcasters attempting to associate the small cost of what they are peddling with something I am very familiar with, but why pick on cigarettes? Why not something I don't mind giving up for a good cause — like limburger cheese, burlesque shows, Elvis Presley records, turtle-neck sweaters or stud poker?

So a wad of my folding money has gone up in smoke, so that's where I get my kicks. If a big, mean, country boy like me can be kept in ignorant submission by tobacco smoke, the stuff must have some merit. But I get a little riled at those who make it sound like if you can afford to smoke, you can afford diamonds, mink and yachts.

Every time I consider giving up smoking for a worthy cause, it upsets me so much it takes a couple of packs of cigarettes to get me quieted down again. By that time, I have forgotten what started the fire.

Peace-making General

Everybody who has belonged to an organization of any kind is more or less familiar with "Robert's Rules of Order," the little book that rules the meeting. But who was Robert, the man who wrote it? Some great lawyer, college professor or political leader?

Guess again. Henry Martyn Robert, who authored the famous "rules" was a soldier, a West Pointer from South Carolina and an engineer officer who rose to brigadier general and Chief of Engineers. He also headed the Board of Engineers that planned the great seawall at Galveston.

But the great achievement of his life, as Tom Mahoney relates in "The Peace-making General", an article in the January American Legion Magazine, was his successful struggle to write and publish his rules of order. These are the essence both of democracy and good manners: abide by the will of the majority; listen to the minority; consider one thing at a time; give everybody a chance to talk; keep discussion impersonal.

He recognized the need for such a book as a young officer when he had to preside at a stormy church meeting a century ago this year in New Bedford, Mass., during the Civil War. But he was so busy mapping roads in the West and building light-houses on the Great Lakes that 13 years passed before he could get his rules together.

Turned down by all book publishers of the day, he had the first edition printed at his own expense and gave many of the copies away. But his faith was amply justified. Somebody is about to buy the 2,000,000th copy of the little book!

A Swamp Of Ignorance

In expressing alarm over "a lack of public understanding of our economic system which is so widespread that it threatens the existence of the system itself," Robert C. Guinness, executive vice president of Standard Oil of Indiana, recently told an audience that only five percent of our high school graduates have ever had a course in economics, while the situation is only somewhat better in our colleges.

Is it any wonder, he asked, that we have a public that can be led hither and yon in economic matters by anyone with a plausible line? Recent public opinion surveys, for example, show that:

a majority of Americans believe every corporation makes a profit every year, although a third actually show losses according to the Internal Revenue Service.

the average public estimate of profits is 20 percent of sales, while the actual average for the past decade is about four percent.

forty percent are nevertheless convinced profits are somehow too high, and an even larger group thinks net profits are higher than wage payments, whereas wages exceed profits by about a four-to-one margin.

It is even more alarming to note that today only a minority of the public places competition ahead of regulation in maintaining fair prices, he said, and only 89 percent of Americans oppose rigid government regulation of business. In his words, "the beneficiaries of the most successful and productive economic system ever developed seem to be willing to throw it out the window."

We are wallowing, to use the Guinness metaphor, "in a swamp of ignorance." We have not, as a people, "been exposed to economics at all in any meaningful sense." Only a "frontal attack on economic illiteracy," he suggests, can save us; and it can best begin at home, in our own community.

It is high time to ask what we intend to do to prepare our own kids in our own schools to understand and use and protect their economic freedom — the keystone of all the other American freedoms. And what are we adults doing in our study clubs and discussion groups and churches to safeguard this freedom for the next generation?

THE CHICKADEE

Oh, blithesome bundle of down and feather,
Singing in spite of Winter's weather;
Cheer giving bird of woods and lanes,
Our hearts rejoice to hear your strains.

To the discouraged trapper on Labrador's shore,
Your merry song gives hope once more.
And the farmer boy, slow bound for school,
You make more willing to learn the rule.

For the downhearted tramp in the city's park,
Your cheerful tunes make life less dark.
To the nature lover in Carlisle Pines,
Your notes suggest these simple lines.

Of all the birds in God's great host,
You scatter sunshine by far the most.
We are deeply thankful to Him for thee,
Nature's own cheerful Chickadee.

POSTAGE IS UP FOR EVERYBODY — well most everybody. Private citizens, private business, publishers of legitimate newspapers and magazines, but not the publishers of the 28 publications of rural electric co-ops whose former half cent rate drops to an estimated 1/8 cent under the new postal law!

Meanwhile newspapers are paying the first of three consecutive ten percent increases, bank interest on loans and income tax — if they make any money; while these co-ops enjoy the REA 2 percent rate, pay no Federal income tax and are dedicated to the harassment of tax-paying investor-owned utilities.

CITATION has been prepared to be given annually to Town's outstanding municipal employee, pending action by the Selectmen.

That Man About Town

B. MAT

Now that a canteen truck stops to serve skaters on the Cemetery pond at the end of Mill Brook, the Sanitation dept. should place a couple of waste barrels there. Right now the shore is unsightly.

We wait with bated breath for the details of the comprehensive master plan which was handed to the Selectmen by the Planning Board on Monday night. No matter what the planners plan, there will be howls from quarters.

Jack Morine will re-run for School Committee for the unexpired 2-year term. Jack had been on the Board for nearly 20 years before he was found napping the last time he was up for re-election. "Mouse" Morine was caught by "Cat" McCann.

A few months later McCann asked for and got the appointment as ass't to the Town Manager's job. So, he resigned from the Sch. Comm. Morine's peers on the Board then put him back on — by appointment — for one year only, under the law.

Jack should have no trouble if he does a bit of work. Besides, we've heard no growing noises from anyone who would like to challenge him.

There were some cries of foul when Morine was appointed. His detractors felt that a defeated candidate was put back on the Committee; thus, the will of the people was ignored.

This stand made some sense but, actually, did not face the facts. The people preferred McCann over Morine, sure. But, the facts were that Morine ran 4th (a few votes behind McCann) in a race that included two incumbents, Thelma Brown and Dr. James Daily, plus several other challengers.

To us it seemed that the Committee's appointment of Morine was following the "voice of the people" — since he ran as runner-up.

Up for re-election to the full, 3-year term on the School Committee are the incumbents, Dr. Richard Baker, an eye-man (and we don't mean an "I-man"), also Dr. Mary Carter, an educator, and Arthur Coughlin, a salesman of sports equipment, of which the Town buys a lot of. (Quite a sentence! We just squeaked by 6th grade grammar.)

Coughlin, who is no relation to Town Treasurer-Collector Francis Coughlin, has already taken out papers for nomination. The two Doctors are expected to, soon.

All three incumbents will win, we presume. Why? We assume: a) they will take warning as to what happened to Morine and do a bit of work; b) they want and like the job, especially Carter and Coughlin; c) three incumbents seldom lose.

We used to say never lose. But, McCann knocked that word out of our vocabulary. We haven't bothered to check the archives but McCann will go probably down in history as the first candidate to defeat one of three incumbents.

Up for re-election, also, is Town Clerk ("The Girl") Ann Mahon. There will be no opposition, unless someone has a lot of time, energy and money to waste.

True this attitude is not Democracy at its best. But there is such a thing as a God-given noggin. Those that don't use it wind-up in the poorhouse or nuthouse.

GOLLINS CORNER

This is the time of year when writers all over the country are picking the top stories of the past year, and they sure have many subjects to dwell upon. And so here in Arlington we have had many worthy news items to write about.

Lately we had the news that the Tax Rate would be increased nearly $5.00 per thousand, and that seemed, at least to the average home owner, the most important item in the Town, at least from a financial point of view.

But the top subject of the year was that momentous question entitled "What will we do with the Depot?" It is quite certain that, if the old building could talk, it would feel quite proud to think that after all this time it has become such a controversial figure.

After many years of inactivity it was the feature attraction at the last Town Meeting, and from reports will play a return engagement next March. In the meantime it has been front page news on many occasions.

It has been a busy establishment in past years, and had as many as 35 trains a day stopping at its "home". Folks in all walks of life patronized its service, including former Gov. of the Commonwealth of Mass. J. Q. A. Brackett who lived on Pleasant st. The only Taxi at that time was a carriage and a horse, owned by Mr. Oakman, and he served the passengers who embarked from Boston.

In Lexington was a home known as the Keeley

Arlington elementary school facilities have been studied in detail by the Education Committee of the League of Women Voters, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Clifford Burvil.

The committee's report to the League was summarized in a mimeographed booklet entitled "Now There are Eleven".

Two of the schools were built before the turn of the century—Locke in 1895 and Crosby in 1896. Cutter followed in 1900. Next came Peirce in 1924, Hardy in 1925 and Parmenter in 1926.

Brackets was built in 1931. Bishop and Dallin in 1950. Thompson was completed in 1956. Stratton in 1961.

The more recently built schools tend toward fewer levels. Parmenter, Cutter and Locke have four floors, including the basement.

All buildings have had additions during the years, except Brackets, Dallin, Thompson and Stratton, and an addition is now in the thinking stage for this last.

Banquet and Party Facilities

Modernization of the schools has included addition of moveable furniture, new lighting, tile floors, acoustic tile ceilings, and at Cutter, a sprinkler system.

The newer schools are fire resistant because of their construction. The Cutter, Crosby and Locke schools, constructed mainly of brick and frame, rely on sprinkler systems. Hardy depends on fire extinguishers, while Stratton has a fire detector system and an auto alarm.

Most of the schools have oil heat, but Brackets, Cutter, and Peirce still burn coal. A modern heating system at Stratton provides individually controlled heat in each classroom.

Auditorium facilities vary from school to school. Bishop and Crosby have excellent auditoriums in separate wings. Brackets has a very adequate one on the first floor. The Locke school is without an auditorium, having sealed off the one on the third floor. Cutter uses its third floor auditorium, to a limited extent and Parmenter uses one on the top level, or fourth floor.

Gymnasium facilities vary widely also. Locke is in need of a gym, and Cutter and Parmenter use basement

Lorraine F. Smith spent the holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Boynton of 49 Gardner st. Miss Smith, a graduate of Simmons College, is now undertaking a graduate program at the New York School of Social Work, Columbia University.

She is a merit scholarship semi-finalist, member of the band, the Read-View Talk Club, the Debating Team and the library corps.

In spite of a full schedule, Judy has found time to be vice-president of Young People's Fellowship, as well as member-at-large of the Diocesan Council of Episcopal Young Churchmen.

She is also a member of the board of directors of the Girls Friendly Society of the Diocese of Massachusetts.

Judith has been admitted under the early acceptance plan to Bryn Mawr, where she will have a chance to further her fine talents.

Citing Census Bureau figures, Oil Facts, a publication of the American Petroleum Institute, says 41 million men and women, representing 64 per cent of the nation's work force, use their automobiles in commuting to and from their jobs.

BABY SAFETY

By Phil Dykstra

Dir. of Home Safety

Nat'l Safety Council

Accidents rank high on the list of hazards to baby's welfare during his first year.

During this period, a baby moves from a stage of helplessness to a stage of awakening activity and initiative. Although his curiosity is high, his ability to coordinate his motions and his understanding of danger are inadequate.

Parents of young babies must be ever alert to safeguard their babies from all types of accidents. Here are a few safety precautions:

Bath time is particularly dangerous. The water must be at a safe temperature and water faucets out of your baby's reach. Many babies have been accidentally scalded because they were able to grab or kick a hot water tap. Babies should never be left alone in a bath at any time for any reason. Have all of your materials at hand so that you won't have to leave baby even for a split second, for example, to reach for a towel.

Be especially careful that baby doesn't fall from the bathnet or dressing table. You'll never know when baby will roll over, even if he has never turned over before. When he is in his crib be sure the sides are up.

Keep a few diapers folded and ready for use on baby's bathnet and dressing table. place your hand against baby's skin and slide the pin through the cloth slowly and carefully. Check the pin to be sure that the safety is really fastened.

Pillows should never be used in a crib. Also avoid dangers of smothering by using a firm mattress with a loose light cover. Never, never, never use a thin plastic sheet or bag as a mattress cover.

Rattles and toys should be sturdy and non-breakable. Beads should be strung on a strong cord and should be too large for baby to swallow. Teething toys should be large enough so they cannot be swallowed.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Arlington Woman's Club will hold a welcome meeting and fashion show at its Jan. 16 meeting at Town Hall.

Mrs. John Quinn, president, has appointed Mrs. Francis Scully and Mrs. William F. Bannon co-chairmen of the event.

New members of the club will be welcomed. The fashion show is sponsored by Moda Boutique Shop of Harvard Square, and will feature an exclusive fashion line.

Mrs. Thomas Foley will act as commentator and club members will model.

Defense Tests To Start Again

 The testing of audible warning signals, commonly called air raid sirens, was discontinued in Arlington on the emergency that existed at that time.

 The audible warning signals testing will now be resumed. The tests take place only on Fridays at twelve o'clock noon. They will consist of testing the eighteen sirens located on top of Edison Light poles.

 If sirens are sounded at any other time it will be due either to a real alert or a short circuit in one or more han of 16 West Court terr.

suffered a thumb laceration,
and Barry Wright, 14, of 16
Nourse rd. sustained cuts on the side of his head.

pital by police.

RAINBOW MOTHERS

The Rainbow Mothers' Club will hold its regular meeting at the Robbins Library Hall, Wednesday, Jan. 16 at 8 p.m.

MRS. KENNETH BARNEY

Elizabeth H. Barney, wife of Kenneth M. Barney, of 48 Arlinton st., died at Symmes hospital on Jan. 8. She had been confined to her home for several months. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son Robert H.

Funeral services will be held in the Pleasant Street Congregational church tomorrow, Friday, at 2 p. m. The Rev. Stuart Haskins, pastor, and the Rev. John Heidt, former pastor, will officiate.

Visiting hours will be this evening at Saville funeral home from 7 to 9.

Mrs. Barney was born in New Haven, Conn., in 1903 and later taught elementary school in Melrose. She had lived here for about 30 years.

She was active in the affairs of the Pleasant Street church, serving as music committee chairman for 10 years, on the housekeeping committee which had much to do with the recent renovation of the parsonage, a member of the Churchill group, and the executive committee of the church and conducted the junior choir of 40.

Mrs. Barney was chairman of the chorus of the Arlington Philharmonic Society and held many other offices.

institute, which enrolled well-to-do gentlemen whose 'banded elbows' needed to be straightened out, and they would 'all stop at the Depot on their way to the famous 'watering place.' And then after a few weeks, they would again stop on their way back to the City, completely De-hydrated.

The most famous train to pull up at the station was the one on Saturday night, known as the 'twenty minutes of twelve.' It arrived about mid-night, and brought home the theatre goers, the shoppers loaded with bundles, and many others who were just plain loaded.

Many disembarked at the Depot in the center, and many Saturday nights the area around the building was really a lively place. Many a Sunday dinner was still on the train when it pulled into the Station at Lowell, and the owner would spend the next day in quiet solitude.

Yes, if this venerable old building could talk, it would be very enjoyable listening, and today would be proud to think that bankers, Town officials, and citizens are reading and discussing its future. It would be proud of the bath it has had, and the nice new 'suit of clothes', and the fact that thousands of people now know where Railroad avenue is.

And for those who listened to the Town Meeting last March vote down the motion to raze the building one is reminded of Whittiers poem 'Barbara Frietchie, when by their vote said, 'Who touches a shingle of yon gray shed, must answer to us, the Members said'.

Social Worker Named Youth Service Director

The Board of Directors of the Arlington Department of Youth Services is pleased to announce the appointment of Mrs. Tina G. Howell as Director of the Department. This grant of $10,000 for the year 1963 was made possible as a result of negotiations with Mr. Campbell G. Murphy, Director of the Special Projects Department of United Community Services of Boston. This represents the Board's first major step towards obtaining grant funds to staff the Department.

This grant has been made available through the Duncan Russell Delinquency Project of United Community Services. Dean Charles Schottland of Brandeis University, Chairman of the Delinquency Project Committee of U.C.S. and his committee members have for some time been interested in and impressed with the efforts made in Arlington to abate the rise of delinquency and to promote the well-being of its youth population.

Mrs. Howell assumes her duties as Director on a full-time basis as of January 1, 1963. In this capacity, she will continue to develop with the Board proposals for special grant projects and to put into operation a number of services to be offered by the Department.

For the past two years, Mrs. Howell's services as a staff consultant to the Arlington Youth Council have been made available through United Community Services. Mrs. Howell will continue to offer this service.

The Board of Directors express gratitude to Dean Schottland and his Committee, to Mr. Campbell G. Murphy and to Mr. Raymond C. Chase, Director of United Community Services for having made this possible.

Mrs. Howell is no longer a stranger to many of us. In the two years she has been working with us in Arlington, she has worked closely with not only the officers and members of the Arlington Youth Council, but with the many agencies and organizations in Arlington, both public and private, who offer services to young people.

Mrs. Howell's professional background affords her the qualifications for this assignment. She obtained her BA degree from Brooklyn College and a Master's Degree in Social Work from New York University.

She is a New Yorker by birth but claims New England heritage by virtue of her marriage to Richard Howell from Medford, Massachusetts. She has been a resident of Boston since 1960 when she began to work for United Community Services as a Community Organization Consultant. Her assignments other than the Arlington one, have been as consultant to similar groups in Waltham and in Brookline.

For 15 years prior to moving to Boston, Mrs. Howell was on the staff of the Domestic Relations Court of New York City working first as a Probation Officer in both the Children's and Family Court and for the last 8 years as a Case Supervisor in the Children's Branch of that Court. While in that employment, she represented the Court on the NYC Mayor's Committee on Multi-Problem Families. Her court work in New York brought her into contact with many professional children's agencies as well as with citizen groups formed to combat delinquency.

Although trained as a teacher of foreign languages (Italian and French) and having taught in New York City for two years, it was not until her 2½ year enlistment in the WAC during World War II when she served as a First Sergeant that she decided to seek further training as a social worker.

She is certified as an Accredited Social Worker by the National Association of Social Workers.

Russell Society

The Jason Russell Society, Children of the American Revolution, held its December meeting and Christmas party at the home of the Senior President, Mrs. J. Edward Vivian. Twenty-five members and guests were present.

President David Vivian headed the session, with vice-president Cynthia Clark giving the invocation. Karen and Karl Rood led the Pledge of Allegiance and Robert Cunningham the C. A. R. Creed.

A letter from Saint Mary's Episcopal school for Indian girls in Springfield, South Dakota, was read by Meredith Morton, thanking the Society for clothing received. Seventeen members from Jason Russell Society attended the State Holiday meeting and tea dance at the College Club, Boston.

The society voted to contribute to the Massachusetts Indian scholarship fund and to six National C.A.R. projects. Richard Guild, recording secretary, reported on Gadsby's Tavern located in Alexandria, Virginia, built in 1752 and used as a meeting place for patriots in the 18th century. Many U. S. presidents including George Washington have been guests there.

The Tavern was restored in 1928, two bedrooms of which were renovated and furnished by the National C.A.R. Society, and are maintained by C.A.R. societies throughout the country. The guest speaker, Mrs. Melville Rood of Arlington, showed her slides taken of American Indians, the Navajo, Hopi and other colorful western tribes gathered for their annual ceremonial dances in Gallup, New Mexico.

Revenue Numbers Called Necessity

Taxpayers were reminded recently by Boston Internal Revenue Director Alvin M. Kelley that under a recent law they are required to enter their identifying "tax account" numbers on 1962 income tax returns filed in 1963.

For the individual, this is his social security number, or similar number issued for tax reporting purposes if he has never had employment under social security coverage.

Use of identifying numbers is essential to electronic processing of returns, now being installed nationwide by Internal Revenue. Mr. Kelley said. He added that failure to show account number may delay any refund due.

Taxpayers still needing an account number should apply at once to the District Director's office, or to the District Office of the Social Security Administration.

Kelley also pointed out that payers of dividends and interest are required to obtain the account numbers of their shareholders and depositors and to use them on information documents submitted to Internal Revenue.

Receivers of income from these sources should comply promptly when they get requests for their account numbers from the paying organization. This also is required by law, he added.

Special Seal

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Department of Labor has published a special seal to commemorate its 50th anniversary in 1963.

The seal shows an American eagle, its wings spread wide, holding a badge which carries the wording "50 years of progress." The years 1913 and 1963 are on either side of the eagle. In a semicircle under the eagle are the words "The dignity of labor in a free society," the theme for the anniversary period beginning next March 4.

In a semicircle over the eagle is printed "United States Department of Labor."

All publications issued by the Department in 1963 will carry the seal. It will also appear on the Department's stationery and on certificates of appointment being presented to all members of a special anniversary committee established earlier this year by President Kennedy.

The seal will also appear in special window displays and other exhibits staged around the country to observe the event.

The Labor Department was established on March 4, 1913, when President William Howard Taft signed a bill creating the Department "to foster, promote and develop the welfare of the wage earners of the United States, to improve their working conditions and to advance their opportunities for profitable employment."

World Gov't Or A World War

A group of the ministers meeting at Phillips Exeter Academy in New Hampshire this week released a statement to the press calling for massive response to world leaders favoring reliance on the U. N. and the creation of world government.

Eight Unitarian Universalist clergymen serving New England churches congratulated Look magazine for carrying post-Cuban reactions, "Christmas in Crisis." The ministers endorsed statements of western leaders who in the article called for a critical review of the policy relying on nuclear deterrence to keep the peace.

Guy Meyer of Arlington said, a suicide pact is being developed between the nuclear nations. He urged Unitarian Universalists to express continuing concern to the government calling for an organization to which weapons could be entrusted.

Manuel Holland, Framingham minister, recited a portion of the Lord's Prayer, "lead us not into temptation" to rely upon the threat of nuclear violence" referring to the recent crisis in the Caribbean.

Kenneth Warren, Barnstable minister who gained national prominence in aiding reverse freedom riders, stated, "We must make a choice between world government and world war."

Exercise Fine, But Watch Out

Everyone living in Massachusetts sooner or later awakes one morning to find a covering of snow. It may be only an inch or so that soon melts, or it may be in drifts two feet deep along the front walk and along the driveway. The walk and driveway must be cleared of snow.

From the Medical Foundation, a United Fund agency, comes this renewal of the annual warning to men of middle age and beyond not to rush into shoveling away the snow.

The warning against overexertion in shoveling away the first snowfall of the season is aimed particularly at men past 40, and especially for those men who lead physically rather inactive lives, those who are overweight and those who have had an illness that has left them weakened.

Snow shoveling actually can be good for you, if you approach it leisurely.

The fresh air and the exercise are fine, but don't overdo it. Hard, vigorous exercise, such as rapid plying of a snow shovel in a frantic effort to clear the driveway and get to the office on time, could be dangerous. It could even kill you, by putting an undue strain on your heart.

If your heart is all right, you won't hurt by overexertion. But the problem is to be certain that your heart is all right. If you've had a recent physical check-up, say within six months and have felt okay since, you very likely are all right.

But if you are not in good condition, don't be ashamed to get a small snow blower or snow plow for clearing walks and drives. Or don't hesitate to hire the neighbor's son to do the clearing job for you.

Trying to prove that you're still a "he-man" who can shovel snow like a youngster is foolish and unnecessary.

Dinner Planned To Honor Fontaine

Plans are being formulated by friends of Frank Fontaine, currently featured on the Jackie Gleason television show, to honor him at a Testimonial Dinner for his contribution to the field of entertainment as a native son of Massachusetts.

Held in conjunction with the 25th Anniversary of the Middlesex County Chapter of the March of Dimes, Mr. Fontaine will also be honored by that organization for his participation and interest in their program. All proceeds of the dinner will be donated to the chapter, at the wish of Mr. Fontaine.
